Happy Face smiles for Family Fun Day

WINCHESTER – It was a beautiful day in Winchester for the 4th annual Happy Face Nursery School Family Fun Day on Sat., Sept. 9, at the Winchester Public School. Families came out to celebrate, watch science demonstrations and a reptile show, enjoy a barbecue lunch, and watch the children take a bounce on the large inflatables.

Happy Face Nursery School currently has six locations – Chesterville, Morrisburg, Nationview, North Stormont, Roxmore and Williamsburg. Executive Director Cheryl Firlotte noted that it has been a busy summer, as summer camps have kept employees very busy over the last few months. When asked about upcoming news for Happy Face, Firlotte said they are most excited for the opening of their infant care centre in Winchester. They are just waiting on construction to begin.

Russell Fair 2017 edition is a big hit

RUSSELL – The 2017 edition of the Russell Fair, one of the province's older agricultural fairs, was a big hit with locals and visitors alike from Thurs., Sept. 6 to Sun., Sept. 10. After two years of reduced attendance due to inclement weather, the sun shone brightly and good attendance was restored, much to the relief of the organizers, who have worked hard all year to produce the event, which is Russell's biggest.

The new big top tent in the ball diamond area was a popular spot to hear live bands and the craft beer festival, in its second year, was again packed. As well as celebrating the 159th edition of the Fair, the Russell Agricultural Society, whose members run the Fair and coordinate a small army of volunteers, also celebrated the 150th anniversary of Confederation and had a theme of Canada 150+.

Some other highlights included Education Day, which invites school groups to attend for free on Friday morning and learn about agriculture. The Friday night concert, the demolition derby, the truck and tractor pulls, and the mini-wrestling event welcomed large crowds.

Wrestling was a new event at the Fair, featuring wrestlers from small to large. Other athletes which were fun to watch were the acrobats of I-Flip, who did death-defying acrobatic acts of daring do.

Preparing for the Fair is a year-long endeavour, requiring countless hours of volunteer work and coordination between numerous committees, service

Morningside Place

In 2002, Avonmore, including Morningside Place, participated in a community-wide display of a record number of scarecrows – actually the world's largest display of scarecrows, according to the Guinness Book of Records when the village displayed 3,079 scarecrows on Oct. 12, 2002. However, according to the Guinness Book's website, since then, "the largest gathering of scarecrows in one location is 3,812, achieved by the National Forest Adventure Farm in Burton-upon-Trent, Staffordshire, UK, on Aug. 7, 2014."

Morningside Place received a best-decorated award for its IPM display of a tractor with a skeleton driver and fall foliage during the September 2015 International Plowing Match.

Another reason to celebrate for the residents of Morningside Place was its 30th anniversary in the community last Fri., Sept. 8. Residents gathered with Board members, community leaders and administrative staff to recognize the importance of this residence to the community.

Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry MPP Jim McDonell and Township of North Stormont Mayor Dennis Fife presented certificates and congratulated Administrator Pat Bourbonnais, the Board members and residents. Former Board Chair John McIntyre discussed the origins and history of the Board of Directors, and mentioned there is just five years to pay off the mortgage. The current Chair Wally Hare spoke briefly on the mission, goals and challenges of the Board's involvement with managing the facility.

Who better to follow the latter group to give the main address to the audience about Morningside's history and its importance to the Avonmore community than long-time resident and historian Murray Barkley.

Celebrating a milestone

Barkley recounted numerous happenings worldwide 30 years ago from music to politics as Morningside was established and revealed humorous clips about residents who had visited his store (since sold) over the years. However, the most important message about the building, home to so many, was that "rather than an urban indifference or rural isolation" for so many seniors, this place provided independence and a sense of belonging to the community. He concluded with a message to Morningside Place residents and staff that everyone "could learn from your dignity and perseverance... real value in the heart of our community."

A light lunch, prepared by the residents, followed the blessing and grace by Rev. Lois Gaudet of the Avonmore-Finch-Martintown Pastoral Charge. A congratulatory cake was provided by Rock'n Ronda's Diner & Pizzeria, and shopping bags, with Morningside Place 1997-2017 monogrammed on them, were provided by the recently opened Avonmore Pharmacy, Remedy's Rx.

Sharing the history

Long-time resident and historian Murray Barkley recounts the history of Morningside Place over 30 years to the audience on Sept. 8.

Oxford Mills resident Cecile Prodonick recently celebrated her 80th birthday during a party held Aug. 27 at Maplewood Park in Oxford Mills. In lieu of gifts, Prodonick asked her guests to make a donation to the House of Lazarus (HOL) in Mountain. Prodonick is an avid supporter of the HOL, which serves over 100 local families through its food bank each month and touches an additional 1,200 people through outreach programs annually. Over $1,000 in donations were presented to the HOL on Sept. 1. Pictured are Prodonick and HOL Executive Assistant Janet Carkner.

Thank You

The Chesterville Fair may be over, but the memories and friendships will stay with us. It was wonderful to see so many people out having a good time, forging and rekindling friendships. The smiles and the laughter were worth it.

There are so many people to thank, I hope this includes everyone – our volunteers, our sponsors, our Board and Homecraft members (who are also volunteers) and of course our fairgoers! You all have played a part in the success of our community event, and we look forward to working with you for many more years to come.

We, the Board of Directors, are always seeking input into how to make things better, and for new ideas. Do you have ideas? Please join us at a meeting, or contact us to share your thoughts. The planning for next year is underway!

So, on behalf of the Chesterville and District Agricultural Society, I would like to express our sincere thanks to everyone who helped to make this year's Chesterville Fair a success!

When asked about the purpose of the event, Firlotte explained that it began in order to mark the 40th anniversary of the company in 2014. She went on to say, "We just enjoyed it so much, and we just like to do something for the community, so we decided to continue it every year since."

North Stormont Council supports safer care at WDMH

BERWICK — It seemed fitting that the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Foundation had a giant cheque on hand to celebrate the large donation from the Township of North Stormont. At its meeting on Aug. 29, the North Stormont Council presented a gift for $15,000 for the Foundation's General Equipment Fund. The money will be used to help purchase new Automated Dispensing Cabinets for medication.

"The Township of North Stormont is excited to continue their support of the Winchester District and Memorial Hospital. Many residents of North Stormont rely upon the Winchester Hospital to provide primary and emergency care. Supporting the purchase of Automated Dispensing Cabinets (ADCs) will help to improve the level of service at WDMH at the point of care," said Mayor Dennis Fife. "Council is proud to be a supporter of the WDMH and applauds the efforts of the hospital to continue to provide excellent health-care services to the residents of North Stormont."

At WDMH, delivering 15,000 medications to patients each year is a complex task. The new ADCs ensure the right drug or drugs are dispensed to the right patient at the right time. They are like a vending machine that dispenses pre-packaged medication. Only one medication drawer can be unlocked at a time – both when stocking the machine and when a nurse is getting a patient's medication. This simplifies the process and increases patient safety.

"We are very fortunate to be able to bring 10 ADC units and a pill packager to WDMH for our patients," noted Kristen Casselman, WDMH Foundation

Managing Director at the presentation. "Time and time again, I am overwhelmed by the generosity of the people of Eastern Ontario and how many times people go above and beyond to support WDMH and the patients we care for. It's only because of donors like the North Stormont Council that we are able to support WDMH in providing compassionate, excellent, health care, close to home. Thank you!"

The Township of North Stormont has been supporting the WDMH Foundation since 2002 and has given $165,350 to date.

Huge cheque for ADCs

Back to classes and activities

CHESTERVILLE – The first week back was a success. To start the week off, student council collected birthdays for the morning announcements. Picture day was Thurs., Sept. 7, and everyone dressed to impress.

To celebrate our first week back we had a spirit day. Fri., Sept. 8, was house colour day. The students wore their house colour to earn points for their grade. The grade with the most points at the end of the year gets a prize. With Grade 7 as red, Grade 8 as grey, Grade 9 as green, Grade 10 as white, Grade 11 as blue, Grade 12 as black, and the staff as orange, the staff conquered the first spirit day. Thanks to everyone who participated this week!

Suicide prevention: Take a minute, change a life

CORNWALL – This past Sun., Sept. 10 was World Suicide Prevention Day (WSPD). WSPD is held to raise awareness and help prevent suicide. This year asks that we “take a minute, change a life.”

It is estimated that each day in Canada, 11 people end their life and 210 make a suicide attempt. The World Health Organization (WHO) reports that every year, more than 800,000 people die of suicide, and up to 25 times that many attempt suicide. They all have a story. Some are well-connected people in the community, others may be quite isolated. But regardless of the circumstances, we all have an important role to play in supporting those among us who are vulnerable.

Robyn Hurtubise and Joanne Ledoux-Moshonas, Co-Chairs of the Suicide Prevention Coalition of Champlain East, stress how important a minute can be in effecting change in someone’s life. “Sometimes it’s all that is needed,” they say. “People in distress need someone to take notice and offer help. When things don’t seem right, take a minute to see if you can change a life.”

As well, this year marks the 15th World Suicide Prevention Day that started in 2003 as an initiative of the International Association for Suicide Prevention and was endorsed by the World Health Organization. The International Association for Suicide Prevention has many resources available to you as well as activities to help raise awareness and help prevent suicide.

To find out how you can get involved in WSPD activities, visit the Canadian Association for Suicide Prevention (CASP) website at www.suicideprevention.ca where a link to the WSPD toolkit is provided.

For local information about suicide prevention, visit www.reachoutnow.ca, or contact the Canadian Mental Health Association at 613-933-5845 or 1-800-493-8271. You can also contact the Mental Health Crisis Line at 1-866-996-0991. The Eastern Ontario Health Unit can help as well. Call 613-933-1375 or 1-800-267-7120, or visit www.EOHU.ca.

The Suicide Prevention Coalition of Champlain East is a partnership made up of 23 organizations from the City of Cornwall, the United Counties of Prescott and Russell, the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, and Akwesasne. A list of the participating organizations can be found at www.reachoutnow.ca.

CASTOR Country

By Tom Van Dusen

Full of beans

The lineup early last Saturday morning stretched from the front door, across the parking lot, and along the sidewalk, the equivalent of a couple of city blocks.

It was a rare sight in Russell, in fact probably one never seen before, even at Lobster Feast. They weren’t lining up for tickets to some super group concert or for the latest instalment to an infamous book series. The line wasn’t for the Russell Fair being held nearby; anybody wanting to enter the Fair the same day at the same time was doing so with little delay.

The somber people in the line, mostly middle-aged and older, stood patiently, waiting for their turn to hopefully strike gold in a very different way... inclusion on the patient list of the Russell Medical Clinic’s new Dr. Anna Boutillier who replaces Dr. Danielle De Banne who recently retired due to – you got it! – overwhelming workload.

If they felt degraded or embarrassed, they didn’t show it. Obviously, they were told that getting in line was the only way they had of acquiring a family doctor and they were prepared to do it. They probably would have done handstands along the way – or at least tried – if they’d been told it would improve their chances.

In her goodbye letter to patients, Dr. De Banne warned that her replacement wouldn’t physically be able to take over her entire practice. She didn’t go into detail about how the new list would be formed but she did take a few shots at authorities who failed to recognize Russell’s need for more doctors.

When I drove by on my way to the Fair, I didn’t understand right away what the lineup was all about. Was it flu shots? Was it a sale at the drug store? I figured it out later and was thankful it wasn’t my turn to sign up with a new physician, comfortable that I was one of Dr. Gerry Heymans’ earliest patients and that he’ll never willingly retire.

With no need to line up at the clinic, I had more time to spend at the Fair. To say it was a “new look” was an understatement. I can’t remember so many changes in one year.

The official opening was moved from Wednesday to Friday, attractions such as part of the educational display were relocated, there was no antique farm machinery show and demonstration, no seniors show in the arena, and main-stage entertainment was relocated from the arena to a huge tent.

As a fan of the antiques, I missed the contribution of that component as the agricultural core of the Fair. As a member of the Russell Male Choir, I was disappointed we weren’t asked to perform as part of the seniors show as we have been in the past.

How did the changes work out? I suppose they’ll be evaluated by the Russell Agricultural Society in a post mortem and a decision taken whether or not to proceed in the same direction next year.

On Sunday, I veered away from the Fair under perfect weather to take in two other festivals, one of them being the well-established Harvest Fall Festival at the charming, multi-building Glengarry Pioneer Museum in Dunvegan.

There was a horse parade, small-stage entertainment, displays on all aspects of farm and country living, Indigenous Heritage, a Harvest Tent, hand-churned ice cream making, refreshments, and the Star Inn, Ontario’s oldest tavern serving beer and wine.

The star of this festival was the Ferguson Threshing Machine, once commercially built and sold in Maxville. There were demonstrations by restored and reactivated threshers, and members of the family put together an informative display. Led by Russell’s Henry Staal, members of Vintage Iron & Traditions of Eastern Ontario helped bring the old Fergusons to life.

Then I was off to Riceville Fairgrounds, about 20 minutes from Dunvegan, for the inaugural edition of the Wood & Forest Exhibition featuring the auction of 100 lots of hardwood slabs, boards, cutting blocks and burls.

This event was previously held at Dunvegan but was relocated to take advantage of a greater volunteer base, larger exposition site, and reduced confusion with other events.

With 50 exhibitors to start, organizers have the makings of a very successful show. It also included entertainment, demonstrations, displays by just about everyone involved in forestry from furniture makers to nut growers, as well as beans and macaroni dishes out by Plantagenet’s La Binerie, which hosts its own festival this Friday through Sunday (Sept. 15-17).

All this and not a single line up!

The Road Home

Celebrating Canada 150

Carolyn Thompson Goddard
Record Correspondent

It has been quite a summer with celebrations near and far for Canada 150, with almost everything imaginable done to celebrate this historic occasion.

The Chesterville & District Historical Society held a very successful tea to commemorate the sesquicentennial of our country as well as the 150th year of community service provided by the building which currently houses an impressive collection of archival information and artifacts that tell the story of our community. This small red brick building has served as a police station, fire station, church, municipal building and if memory serves correctly a school over its past 150 years.

As Canadians, we are often reminded of how youthful our country is when compared with some of the nations in Europe or Asia with some non-aboriginal colonization occurring within the last thousand years or so. In the case of SDG, European settlement began a scant 235 years ago when United Empire Loyalists sought refuge along the shores of the St. Lawrence River and began many communities which still thrive to this day.

During the CDHS tea party a group of people from Stormont County Fair arrived, decked out in their sesquicentennial costumes, to not only join their northern cousins in a spot of tea, but to get the word out about the 150th Stormont County Fair! Among the tea drinkers was Candy Rutley who had spent a great deal of time researching and organizing what I like to call “a fair within a fair” to celebrate this important anniversary.

The rain delayed the 1867 style fair commemorating the first fair from Sunday until Monday, but didn’t dampen the enthusiasm of the participants or those who took time to drop in. From sheep shearing demonstrations to displays of winning produce to a blacksmith plying his trade, there was a good taste of what our ancestors may have seen as they strolled the grounds of the first Stormont County Fair 150 years ago.

There were no ferris wheels or bright lights but instead a sense of community demonstrating the best it had to offer. There were young girls being taught knitting skills, a tea where people could rest and visit and of course a temperance lady providing knowledge on the evils of alcohol but there were also “townspeople” circulating and time travellers learning about our past. A great big thank you to Candy Rutley and her organizing team as well as all the volunteers who provided this glimpse into yesterday – it was a big job Candy but you did it with style and fun.

This coming weekend there are two events coming up which give homage of our past – the 175th anniversary celebrations of the founding of Avonmore on Sept. 17 in Avonmore and on Sept. 16 the unveiling of the monument to the Canadians in the American Civil War at the Lost Villages Museum. As was the case following the commemorations of the War of 1812 a few years ago, we must grab the torch our ancestors have thrown to us and ensure future generations know the heritage of this area we call home. In this way, we will walk together on the road home – always nice to have company!

Project Warmth comes to Dundas County

MOUNTAIN — A recent Linking Hands Housing Survey has shown a definite need in Dundas County for assistance in combatting energy poverty.

Out of 162 respondents, 69 per cent said their housing costs exceed the recommended 35 per cent of their income, while 77 per cent listed Hydro costs as their biggest housing issue right now. While much needs to be done to address this growing provincial issue, there is one small thing that can easily be done right now: provide window insulation kits for Dundas County's vulnerable sector.

Linking Hands is partnering with Winchester BMR owners Ken and Trish Boje who will supply the kits at cost ($4 per window). Linking Hands needs the community's help to raise the funds to purchase the kits. The project's success also relies on the community to spread the word so those in need are aware of its availability. Kits will be distributed to eligible Dundas County residents through local food banks — Community Food Share and the House of Lazarus. For residents who are not food bank clients, but still cannot afford to buy a kit themselves, they are encouraged to contact Coordinator Sandy Casselman.

"The housing concerns in Dundas County are real and many are from homelessness to substandard living conditions to insufficient affordable rental options and more," Casselman said. "At Linking Hands, we believe everyone should have a warm, safe, and healthy place to live."

This project, along with the aforementioned survey, is an initiative of Linking Hands' Housing Working Group.

This group includes a host of representatives from community agencies, the public, and the Municipality of South Dundas.

"While there is much to be done on the housing front in Dundas County, and much of this will take significant time and effort to accomplish, there are things we can do right now, beginning with the free distribution of window insulation kits to those in need," Casselman said. "Together, we can tackle our county's housing concerns one step at a time."

Contact Casselman at 613-989-3830 or by email at scasselman@houseoflazarus.com for more information.

Avonmore Oktoberfest celebrates silver anniversary

Carolyn Thompson Goddard
Record Correspondent

AVONMORE – Over 200 tickets were sold for the 2017 Avonmore Oktoberfest held on Sept. 9 at the Avonmore Fairgrounds. This event was founded 25 years ago by Volker and Inga Loos, originally from Berlin, Germany, as a fundraiser for the Roxborough Agricultural Society (RAS).

Money raised will go towards the hosting the Avonmore Fair and maintenance of the fairgrounds.

This fall tradition began, according to Volker, when the RAS was looking for ways to use a new tent purchased in the early 1990s. For years, Inga with her team of volunteers cooked the German-style food served at the event and this year RAS President Neil Robinson mentioned all the eight desserts offered were baked from Inga's recipes.

At the beginning of the meal, RAS President Neil Robinson assisted Andy Rorabeck of Rurban Brewing as he tapped the keg of local craft beer Cornwall Kellerbier. The traditional wooden keg brought an old-time feel to accompany to the evening festivities.

After the traditional meal was enjoyed, guests danced the night away with the band, Edelweiss.

New Norm Foster comedy continues on UCP stage

MORRISBURG – “You just have to mention there’s a new Norm Foster show at The Playhouse and the Box Office phone starts ringing,” laughs Artistic Director Donnie Bowes. “But when you have an ace director and dynamite cast to boot, you know this hit comedy is going to be a great way to end a fantastic season!”

Halfway There, Foster’s sparkling new comedy, is directed by Playhouse veteran and Orillia Opera House Artistic Director, Jesse Collins, who has also directed such hit productions of other Foster plays such as The Affections of May and Bedtime Stories. He recently wowed Playhouse audiences with his own hit show, Dean and Jerry: What Might Have Been, which sold out virtually before it opened.

Halfway There has a distinct Maritime feel being set in Junior’s Café, a small diner in the town of Stewiacke, Nova Scotia, which is actually located halfway to the North Pole. “In fact the play originally was called Halfway to the North Pole,” added Bowes. “But the title was changed so folks wouldn’t mistake it for a Christmas play.”

The small town setting where the story unfolds is typical of Foster’s comedies and the likeable cast of characters are both hilarious and relatable ordinary folks that audiences can immediately identify with.

Every afternoon after work, three women meet up at the diner to catch up with each other’s private lives and gab about the local gossip. Rita, the only single lady of the group, is the vamp, Vi, who has been

Main St. Clothing expands to a second location

CHESTERVILLE – With Gary Annable’s recent retirement and store closing, Main St. Clothing Company owner Lisa Williams took over the store officially on Fri., Sept. 1. Williams recalled Annable had approached her when she originally opened three years ago and planted the seed in her mind. However, it was not until about six months ago that the wheels were put into motion.

Williams hopes to open the second location in Annable’s old shop as well as re-open her current location during the first weekend in October. The grand re-opening will double as a three-year anniversary celebration.

Rising high

Main St. Clothing Company in Winchester owner Lisa Williams stands outside her now three-year-old store. Her second location is on the horizon as she began renovations immediately after taking ownership of Annable Jewellery and Gifts’ location.

The new location will serve as William’s base of operations as Main St. Clothing Company Ladies Fashions and Accessories, while the current store will re-open as Main St. Clothing Company Family Apparel.

Williams will keep a close eye on both stores in order to ensure things get done the way she envisions. Williams was clearly excited for the new step and eager to get started.

Carolyn Thompson Goddard

NEWINGTON – Stormont County 4-H Dairy and Beef groups held their Achievement Days during the Stormont County Fair over Labour Day weekend. A wet Sunday resulted in the 4-H Beef Show being moved indoors into the Agriculture Building on Sept. 3, while the return of the sun the following day allowed the 4-H Dairy Show to be held outside in the cattle ring.

How we use the internet is evolving, but can your internet provider keep up?

We all love the Internet. Thanks to the availability of millions of new services and apps (as of March 2017, Apple's App Store alone offered 2.2 million apps¹), the Internet is making it easier than ever to work, socialize, play, shop, learn, share and keep ourselves entertained from our laptops, tablets and phones. Our nation spends more time online than any other (36.7 hours/month²) as we use our computers to watch movies and TV, our tablets to read, and our smart-phones to browse and play. Internet usage is at an all-time high, as 89% of Canadians connect to the Internet.² In fact, high-speed Internet has become so important to us that 73% of Canadians say they would be unlikely to purchase a home that didn't have access to high-speed Internet.²

We demand a lot of our Internet service, especially with more people online at the same time.

If you're spending time online (and who isn't these days?), you're likely familiar with the frustration of slow connection speeds, or an Internet connection that simply doesn't work. We've all experienced these problems: Netflix slows to a standstill, emails sit in your outbox, or that dreaded icon spins endlessly in the middle of your screen. You feel helpless to do anything about these problems, so you wait for the connection to improve. Why does this happen? Often, it is because of something called "peak hours."

Peak hours are times of the day when more people are online. Maybe your neighbours are streaming movies, sending emails or just surfing the web. It is during these peak hours, when everyone is online at the same time, that some Internet service providers cannot keep up with demand and your connection becomes unreliable. Considering how important the Internet can be in day-to-day life, the challenges of a bad connection can feel endless.

Does your Internet provider give you the freedom you're looking for?

Whether kicking back and relaxing, helping the kids with a school projector putting in some overtime from home, Canadians are more connected than ever. Unfortunately, many of us have difficulty finding an Internet provider that can keep up, all because of where we live. As technology evolves, those who live outside of urban areas continue to be limited to what entertainment we can enjoy, how our families can connect, and where we can work. We should be beyond this problem, shouldn't we? Fortunately, there are new options to make the most of our online experience, even in rural areas.

Outsmart slowdowns with Xplornet's new & improved LTE network

To get ahead of slow Internet, look for a true high-speed Internet provider with state-of-the-art technology in your area. Xplornet Communications has been working hard to meet customer demand with recent upgrades to its LTE network. Xplornet's new and improved LTE network will deliver better-than-ever Internet service with speeds up to 25 Mbps³ to Canadians living in rural areas. Xplornet customers can choose from a variety of data packages starting from $29.99/month for the first 6 months of a two-year term, plus a one-time $99 installation fee.⁴ These higher speeds and bigger data packages were created by Xplornet in response to today's consumers using the Internet more, from more devices, often at the same time within the same home. But what does this techy stuff really mean?

Start speeding online with Xplornet.

Are you ready to make better use of your precious time instead of waiting on unreliable Internet service? Reach out to Xplornet at 1-866-290-5255 to find a Dealer in your area. Switching Internet providers is easy, professional installers come to connect you. There's no equipment to buy, and all rental fees are included in Xplornet's affordable monthly rates. Plus, switching to Xplornet is virtually risk-free, because if you're not happy with the service, you will receive your money back.⁸

living with a guy for nine years, is the know-it-all, and Mary Ellen, married with children, is in a rut. The fourth member of the group is their friend, Janine, the waitress at Junior's Café. She lives with a guy who is gone most of the time working at the Oil Sands in Alberta.

The action and comedy ramp up when their daily routine is thrown into excited chaos when Sean Merrit, a young doctor from Toronto, arrives to take over for the town doctor for a month. He's recently been dumped by his girlfriend and is looking for a change in his life. The ladies immediately set their sights on him but it's waitress Janine who catches his eye. In typical Foster style, the ladies' reactions to this newcomer makes for great comedy, while at the same time giving a glimpse into their personal lives and struggles.

This winning combination of hilarity and heart is the unique Foster experience that will once again make for an entertaining time in the theatre. Once again the Playhouse has assembled a stellar cast led by Jamie Williams as Sean, Melanie Janzen as Rita, Viviana Zarrillo as Vi, Debra Hale as Mary Ellen and Jane Spence as Janine. Williams has starred in Playhouse shows ranging from Run For Your Wife, The Affections of May and A Christmas Carol. Janzen has just appeared in the first production of a new Foster play, Lunenburg, at the Foster Festival and previously appeared at the Playhouse in Here On The Flight Path. Hale was seen in last season's There's A Burglar in My Bed and Zarrillo starred in last season's Last of the Red Hot Lovers. Spence was part of the first cast to perform Foster's The Ladies Foursome, which had its world premiere at The Playhouse.

A wonderful partnership

WINCHESTER – Caisse populaire Nouvel-Horizon in Embrun and Desjardins Insurance have teamed up to support local health care – and patients at Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) will benefit from this generous partnership.

On Aug. 28, representatives visited WDMH to present a $4,000 cheque to the WDMH Foundation. The money will go to the Foundation's Family Care Fund – supporting care for families just like yours.

Caisse populaire Nouvel-Horizon participated in a program with Desjardins Insurance based on increasing insurance sales. Not only were they successful in meeting their target, they exceeded it by five per cent. As a result, they were awarded with a $2,000 gift from Desjardins Insurance. Caisse populaire then matched it which resulted in the $4,000 gift.

"We are so grateful to both Caisse populaire Nouvel-Horizon and Desjardins Insurance for this generous gift," noted Kristen Casselman, WDMH Foundation Managing Director at the presentation. "In fact, Caisse populaire Nouvel-Horizon has been giving to WDMH since 2003 and with this gift, the grand total is more than $17,000!"

Teamwork benefits WDMH

Rockets score 16 goals in two preseason games

Jeff Moore
Record Staff

WINCHESTER — The North Dundas Rockets began their 2017 NCJHL preseason with two games this past weekend as they welcomed the South Grenville Rangers on Saturday night and the Metcalfe Jets on Sunday afternoon.

Jets 6 Rockets 5

The North Dundas Rockets welcomed the Metcalfe Jets to the Joel Steele Community Centre in Winchester on Sun., Sept. 10, in the second game of the NCJHL preseason. The Rockets were coming off a one-sided affair against the South Grenville Rangers in their previous game the night before.

For the Jets it was their first preseason game of the season since moving to Metcalfe from Embrun after the Embrun Panthers moved up to the CCHL2. The Panthers beat the Rockets in the NCJHL final last spring so the Rockets were hoping for a little retribution.

The Rockets opened the scoring when Dylan Nixon blasted one home from Justin Lefebvre and Braden Van Kessel on the power play at 8:42 of the first period taking a 1-0 lead.

The Rockets made it 2-0

when Bailey Norman slapped one to the back of the net from Jake Downey and Ben Medynski at 17:29. Just as it looked as though the Rockets were going into the first intermission with a two-goal lead the Jets answered with just 32 seconds remaining as Nathan Bols popped one home from Tyler Jodoin and Martin Carriere.

The Rockets took a 2-1 lead into the intermission. The Jets tied the game when Phil Brunet scored from William Lachapelle at 3:08 of the second period. The Jets took their first lead of the game when Bols scored his second of the game from Tyler Jodoin and Jacob Gregoire at 7:10.

The Rockets tied the game again when Justin Lefebvre scored from Tyson Sherrer at 13:07. The Jets retook the lead with 3:02 remaining in the second period as Sebastien Roy sniped one from Jacob Marley and took a 4-3 lead into the second intermission.

The Rockets made it 5-3 just 2:03 into the third period as Cameron Gallant snapped one home from David Manchisi. The Rockets answered with a goal at 5:41 as Brad Stitt slid one home from Chris Marchand and Norman to make it 5-4. The Rockets tied the game at 7:01 as Marchand blasted one home from Norman and Medynski.

The Jets restored their lead when Roy scored his second of the game at 12:24 from Carriere and Gallant. The Rockets tried desperately to score the game-tying goal but the Jets held them off taking the game 6-5.

Suffering the loss in goal were the tandem of Dawson Charlebois and Max Eves making 30 saves on 36 shots. Picking up the win in the Jets' goal were Danik Gervais and Nathan Noel making 38 saves on 43 shots.

Rockets 11 Rangers 1

The North Dundas Rockets welcomed the South Grenville Rangers to the Joel Steele Community Centre in Winchester on Sat., Sept. 9, in their first NCJHL pre-season game of 2017. The Rockets dressed just six veterans they had on the roster last year.

The Rangers were playing in their first NCJHL game after their Junior B team from Prescott was bought out by the ownership group of the Pembroke Lumber Kings of the CCHL and are now the Whitewater Kings playing out of Cobden.

The Rockets got on the board first as Kage Hallet slapped one to the back of the net from Tristan Staff at 6:18 of the first period to take a 1-0 lead. The flood gates opened for the Rockets after the first goal as they scored five more first-period goals.

Starting it off was Chris Marchand at 7:49 from Brodie Barkley and Brad Stitt, then Jacob Robinson at 10:07 from Marchand, followed by Dylan Nixon from Hallet and Bailey Norman at 10:38, then Justin Lefebvre at 12:38 from Nixon and finally Ethan Gallant at 17:56 unassisted.

The Rockets took a 6-0 lead into the first intermission. It didn't get any easier for the Rangers in the second period as the Rockets' Marchand scored his second of the night from Curtis Barkley at 3:33. The Rockets made it 8-0 when Stitt scored his first goal as a Rocket at 10:17 from Aaron Turcotte.

The Rockets lit the lamp again at 15:01 as Gallant scored his second unassisted goal of the night taking a commanding 9-0 lead into the second intermission. The Rockets made it 10-0 when Robinson scored his second of the night from Stitt and Travis McInnis at 10:09 of the third period.

The Rangers finally hit the scoresheet at 15:06 as Kris Laushway scored from Cole

The North Dundas Rockets had two preseason games this past weekend as they welcomed the South Grenville Rangers on Saturday night and the Metcalfe Jets on Sunday afternoon. The Rockets' sure-handed returning forward Chris Marchand had a good weekend scoring three goals and three helpers for six points in two games. Another returning forward Shawn Simms congratulates Marchand after scoring in last year's semifinal against the Vankleek Hill Cougars.

Edgely and Damon Brown on a power play to make it 10-1. The Rockets added a late goal with just 37 seconds remaining as Stitt scored his second from Marchand and Norman taking the game 11-1.

Splitting the win in the Rockets' goal were Dawson Charlebois and Max Eves making 27 saves on 28 shots. The Rockets outshot the Rangers 61-28.

Panthers pick up three of four points in their first CCHL2 appearance

OTTAWA—The Embrun Panthers opened their inaugural season in the CCHL2 at the Showcase in Ottawa on Saturday afternoon as they faced off against the Arnprior Packers. In their second game of the showcase, the Panthers took on the Westport Rideaus on Sunday afternoon.

Panthers 6 Rideaus 1

The Embrun Panthers travelled back to the Richcraft Sensplex in Ottawa for their second game of the 2017 CCHL2 Showcase as they took on the Westport Rideaus on Sun., Sept. 10. The Panthers went into the game after picking up a single point in their first game against the Arnprior Packers in a game they should have really won but lost in a shootout.

The Rideaus opened their Showcase against the Richmond Royals but the game was called after the first period due to an alarm going off in the building so the game was postponed.

The Rideaus opened the scoring at 12:18 but the Panthers recovered at 17:21 as Andrew Burke banged home a rebound from Jeremy Barrie. The teams took a one-all deadlock into the first intermission.

The Panthers took their first lead of the game when Frederik Lefeche roofed one from Sam Wilson and Luigi Peloso at 12:16 of the second period. The Panthers made it 3-1 when Justin Brennan slid one home after he found a puck just lying on the goal line from Trystan Whynot on the power play at 16:08.

The Panthers made it 4-1 when Nathan Brown roofed a rebound from Justin Belanger at 18:33. Before the buzzer went at the end of the second period the Panthers took a four-goal lead when Burke scored his second of the game from Cody McLennan and Noah Haymes with just 54 seconds remaining.

The Panthers took a convincing 5-1 lead into the second intermission. The Panthers made it 6-1 when Noah Johnston blasted one home from Burke at 4:41 of the third period.

Things got a little nasty on the ice in the rest of the third but the Panthers hung on for the 6-1 victory. Picking up the win in the Panthers' goal was Jean Sebastien Gratton making 36 saves on 37 shots.

Packers 4 Panthers 3 (SO)

The Embrun Panthers travelled to the Richcraft Sensplex in Ottawa on Sat., Sept. 9, for the 2017 CCHL2 Showcase to take on the Arnprior Packers in their first official game of the franchise's career. The Panthers went 2-2 in the preseason and the Packers sported a 1-3 record in their preseason.

The Panthers opened the scoring on a nice deflection in front of the net by Nathan Brown on the power play from Tristan Whynot and Cody McLennan at 2:57. The Packers battled back to tie the game at 5:17.

The teams took the one-all draw into the first intermission. The Panthers retook the lead at 5:58 of the second period when Mark Morrison snapped one low stick side from Marc Brosseau and Noah Haymes.

The Panthers took a two-goal lead when Brosseau took a feed from Morrison from behind the net and wrapped it around the Packers' goalie at 9:42. The Panthers took a 3-1 lead into the second intermission.

The Packers got to within one at 5:33 on the power play and tied the game at 16:42. Neither team could score before the end of regulation so the game headed to a three-on-three five-minute overtime period.

Both teams got six shots on goal in the overtime but neither were able to score. The game headed to the dreaded shootout. The Panthers' first shooter Brosseau scored on a nifty deke forehand-backhand to the back of

Hawks earn split at showcase

OTTAWA — The Winchester Hawks headed to the 2017 CCHL2 Showcase in Ottawa this past weekend as they played host to the Carleton Place Canadians on Saturday afternoon and were the visitors Sunday night to the Perth Blue Wings.

Hawks 4 Blue Wings 1

The Winchester Hawks travelled back to the Richcraft Sensplex in Ottawa on Sun., Set. 10, for their second game at the CCHL2 Showcase. The Hawks dropped their first decision to the Carleton Place Canadians 5-1 as they looked to shake that one off.

The Blue Wings suffered the same fate when they were shut out by the Casselman Vikings in their previous game. The Hawks opened the scoring when Ian Ogden snuck in off the point and rifled one to the top corner from Griffin Paterson and Kyle Kuenhi at 4:08 of the first period to take a 1-0 lead.

The Hawks took the 1-0 lead into the first intermission. The Hawks made it 2-0 when Hunter Randell sniped one from Evan Landry and Jordan Chagnon just 41 seconds into the second period. The Blue Wings got to within a goal at 15:16 but the Hawks answered with a goal with 1:35 remaining in the middle frame as Anthony Urbisci slid a one-timer from Brad Richardson and Mitchell Robertson to take it 3-1.

The Hawks took the 3-1 lead into the second intermission. The Hawks' defence held up pretty tight in the third period plus their goalie Brent Pledge-Dickson was hot stopping everything he faced.

The Blue Wings pulled their goalie at around the two-minute mark of the third period but that preseason with a 2-1 record while the Canadians had a perfect 2-0 record in their preseason.

It was the Canadians' first game in the CCHL2 after they had bought out the Clarence Beavers at the end of last season. The two teams battled hard in the opening frame but neither team could find the back of the net.

The Canadians outshot the Hawks 13-7 in the first period but they took a 0-0 draw into the first intermission. The Canadians opened the scoring at 4:39 of the second period to take a 1-0 lead.

The Canadians dominated the Hawks scoring at 12:37, 13:07 and again at 13:24. The Hawks finally got on the scoreboard as Griffin Paterson slapped one home from Justin Campeau-Racine and Neil Gummeson with 1:42 on the clock.

The Canadians took a 4-1 lead into the second intermission. The Canadians made it a 5-1 game at 8:37 of the third period. Suffering the loss in the Hawks' goal was Conor Lahey making 51 saves on 56 shots.

Rocket Robyn's review

The Rockets opened their exhibition schedule with an 11-1 win over the South Grenville Rangers expansion team.

As a management group, obviously we were happy with the results, for that exhibition game we had 16 local kids in the lineup and a great turnout in the stands — the arena had a good vibe Saturday night.

Sunday afternoon we played the Metcalfe Jets and lost 6 to 5. It was a solid effort by both clubs and a good hockey game. The Jets are going to have a pretty competitive hockey team this year, which is great for us given that they are so close, makes for some entertaining hockey games.

Until we get to that point I won't have much to say, with the kids we have trying out this year, the local and personal connections I have with all of them, I can simply say that there are going to be some absolutely gut-wrenching decisions to make by next Saturday. Lenard, Nik, Doug and I have been evaluating every possible scenario we can think of to make as much room for everyone as possible.

Thanks to those who came out to support us this weekend, and the sponsors who have donated to the club so far. The support has been early and outstanding.

Another exciting Fireball Enduro

Martin Bélanger
Special to the Record

CORNWALL — The annual Fireball Enduro was another great success at Cornwall Motor Speedway on Sun., Sept. 10, as the stands were packed and over 225 participants took part in the different races scheduled during the afternoon.

Sandy Leduc won in the four cylinders ladies, Tyler Dawner won the four cylinders men, Nick Germain won the six cylinders men, Steve Depatie won the eight cylinders men, Sylvain Brady won the mini-van and Shawn Ray was the final winner of the afternoon in the second four cylinders race.

To cap off 2017, the Super DIRTcar Big Block Series will be in town on Sun., Sept. 17, to complete their remake event. Matt Sheppard has been the man to beat on the tour trying to erase the deficit created by his two-race absence earlier in the season.

Sheppard has won six of the last seven events. The tour has a busy month of September, travelling to Quebec this weekend and then to Brewerton, Mohawk and then Cornwall. Having a three-race weekend, there is expected to be a great field of cars. Along with the 100-lap Modified, a 50-lap Sportsman and 35 laps for Pro-Stocks will also be on the card.

Brady wins Enduro

Vars resident Sylvain Brady won the Fireball Enduro at Cornwall Motor Speedway behind the wheel of his "Nemo" mini-van. Brady has been racing Enduros for 15 years and this is his first-ever victory.

Ottawa reneges on ambulance changes

Candice Vetter
Villager Staff

RUSSELL – Rural municipalities surrounding Ottawa appear to be on the hook again after the City of Ottawa has reneged on ambulance dispatch changes that were alleviating some of the pressures on rural services.

Over the last two years, Emergency Medical Services management in the counties of Prescott-Russell, Leeds and Grenville, Stormont Dundas and Glengarry, Lanark, and Renfrew have seen a spike in ambulance call volumes coming from the City of Ottawa with the biggest increase in the United Counties of Prescott-Russell.

In 2008, the provincial government ended the requirement that municipalities pay for cross-boundary services, but the directive that the closest ambulance must respond, did not. The effect wasn't felt, however, until the existing reciprocal agreement between UCPR and Ottawa ran out in 2015 when Ottawa, took advantage of the situation by significantly increasing its use of neighbours' ambulances, without payment. It was only when rural chiefs sounded the alarm about leaving their own residents unprotected that the province took another look.

As a result, the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care investigated the numbers of times neighbouring rural counties had to provide ambulance services to City residents. In March the MOHLTC made recommendations. This spring Ottawa Paramedic Emergency and Protective Services Chief Peter Kelly submitted a memorandum to Ottawa City Council saying the City's ambulance service will respect the recommendations.

After more talks the new chief of the Ottawa Paramedic Emergency and Protective Services, Myles Cassidy, presented a proposed agreement to the City's neighbours. According to that agreement the City would cover cross-border deployment of paramedic services from neighbouring counties, and rural counties' paramedics would only respond to the most crucial Ottawa calls, such as when a patient was in cardiac arrest or unconscious, and if there were a major emergency Ottawa would request backup by calling the other services directly. It would then be the other services' decisions regarding whether or not they had sufficient resources to assist.

Municipalities brought the agreement to their elected officials. In Renfrew County, it was voted on Wed., Aug. 30. But on Thurs., Aug. 31 the City dropped a bombshell, when Anthony Di Monte, Ottawa's general manager of Emergency and Protective Services, announced to City Council that his department will not honour the agreement.

Renfrew County Chief Mike Nolan stated he did not know about the announcement by Di Monte until he was called by CBC and asked for his reaction. This sudden about face appears to be yet another example of how the City shows its lack of disregard for the rest of Eastern Ontario. Di Monte himself, on CBC radio, accused the other municipalities of playing "gamesmanship."

Renfrew Chief Nolan questioned why ambulances aren't stationed permanently in the outer wards of the City instead of all being close to downtown, and Prescott-Russell EMS Chief Michel Chretien was quoted in The Ottawa Citizen as saying their complaints were, "not gamesmanship for us." Both Nolan and Chretien have said it is the City that is playing games, and gambling with the lives of the residents of Eastern Ontario.

Although residents of rural counties are bearing all the costs, they are not the only residents put at risk by centralized dispatch policies. Rural wards of the City also suffer by having ambulances stationed many kilometres away rather than in the outlying wards. Many Ottawa councillors have claimed the issue is about money, but Chretien and other chiefs have said it's about safety. "They're leaving us without coverage," said West Carleton-March Councillor Eli El-Chantiry.

In the meantime, Nolan has been quoted widely as saying that until he hears something directly from Ottawa Paramedic Chief Cassidy the deal is still on. "Ottawa was the originator of this agreement," he said on CBC radio. "Frankly I wonder what's fallen off the wagon for that agreement to be tossed aside."
